Jan Kayarton Jim Haggerson, Mayor of Tukwila January 20, 2009

Honorable Mayor Jim Haggerton City of Tukwila 6200 Southcenter Boulevard Tukwila, WA 98188

Dear Mayor Haggerton,

It is a pleasure to present the Tukwila Police Department 2008 Annual Report. This report reflects on the outstanding service that was provided to our Tukwila Community by the members of the Tukwila Police Department.

The year 2008 marked the 100-year anniversary of our Tukwila Community and our Police Department. We celebrated the 100 years by designing and dedicating a centennial badge to be worn from January 1, 2008 through December 31, 2008. In addition, we commissioned a Tukwila Police Department photo that included current and prior members of the Department.

2008 ushered in the grand opening celebration of the Westfield Shopping Town at Southcenter. The expansion not only increased our density but also our calls for service in the business area as well.

During 2008, in addition to celebrations our Department was also faced with many challenges. Assistant Chief of Police Darrell Baskin passed away following his fight with cancer during the first half of the year. By the end of the year the City of Tukwila had experienced it's highest number of homicides requiring extraordinary dedication to service by all members of the Department.

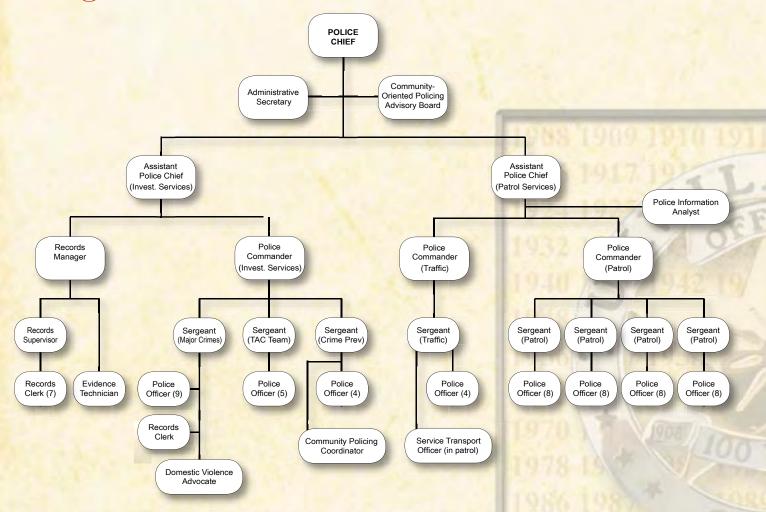

As always it was a pleasure serving our community alongside all the dedicated and enthusiastic members of the Tukwila Police Department.

Thank you for supporting our efforts to provide "Law Enforcement Excellence" to our community.

Sincerely,

David W. Haynes Chief of Police

Records Division

Tukwila Police Department's Records Division operates 24 hours-a-day, 365-days-a-year, and assists the citizens of Tukwila in a variety of ways. In 2008 the division processed 110 Concealed Pistol Licenses, received and responded to nearly 36,000 phone calls, and processed over 4,700 Public Disclosure requests. The Records Division also provides a fingerprinting service to the public, assists with community education programs, and takes Found Property cases.

In addition to serving the citizens of Tukwila, the Records Division provides support to our Commissioned Personnel. The division routinely provides searches of local, state, and federal databases to assist Officers and Detectives with locating information that is pertinent to their investigations and cases. The division also monitors our jail holding facility and assists with prisoner searches.

In 2008, our Records Division processed 8,550 case reports. When processing case reports, the Records Division must ensure accurate, complete, and timely information processing. Information is routinely entered into various local, state, and federal databases. These entries include arrest warrants, stolen and recovered articles including vehicles, missing persons, and protection orders. Entering information into these databases must be done in accordance with various laws and system regulations. In order to ensure a high standard of accuracy, routine audits are conducted on these systems. In addition to the internal audits, information entered into the state and federal databases is subject to audits by regulatory agencies such as the Washington State Patrol and the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

The Records Division operates in a continuous cycle of collecting, storing, and purging information. Within the first quarter of each year, case reports and other records are reviewed to determine which need to be maintained for extended retention, and which should be destroyed. The annual records destruction is completed in accordance with the Washington State General Records Retention Schedule for Law Enforcement Agencies.

Property and Evidence Division

The primary duty of the Property and Evidence division is to ensure the proper chain of custody for property and evidence items taken in by the Tukwila Police Department. Maintaining and properly documenting the chain of custody for these items is imperative to maintaining the integrity of the department's property and evidence system. This division uses a bar coding system as an integral part of maintaining the necessary tracking and documentation for these items. In 2008, nearly 5,000 items were taken in as property and evidence. Evidence Personnel also, at times, assists with crime scene processing and collection of evidence.

The Property and Evidence division operates within a continuous cycle of taking items into custody, storing items, and purging items when they have exceeded the necessary retention periods. Purging or destroying these items involves a lengthy process of researching the status of related case reports, coordinating approval with various Officers, Detectives, Prosecutors and other Personnel, researching court dockets, and researching related sentencing information. Destruction of these items must also be in accordance with various local, state, and federal laws.

In 2008 this division completed a full inventory of all property and evidence items in Tukwila Police Department custody. These items include everything from vehicles, to jewelry, to narcotics and just about everything in between. This division also completed a manual to aid Police Department personnel in packaging and processing evidence in accordance with Departmental policies and state guidelines.

Patrol Division

Patrol is often called the "back bone" of the police department because it's the primary means of providing police services to the public. Almost every incident reported to the police starts with a patrol officer responding to a 911 call.

Patrol officers responded to many types of calls, such as thefts, vehicle collisions, assaults, domestic disputes, death investigations, homicides, hazardous situations, burglaries, alarms, missing people, suicidal persons, suspicious situations, robberies, fights, disorderly subjects, drunk driving, natural disasters, and many other types of incidents. In addition, officers spent many hours conducting pro-active patrol and enforcing traffic laws.

This year, Patrol Officers responded to 31,148 calls for service, took 8,355 case reports, and made 3,283 arrests.

To handle this volume of work, the division is staffed with thirty two patrol officers and four Sergeants. When fully staffed, each Sergeant supervises a squad of eight officers. There are two squads assigned to dayshift and two squads assigned to work nights with each patrol officer and Sergeant working a twelve hour shift.

The patrol division is managed by two Commanders and an Assistant Chief. These personnel are responsible for overseeing operations and logistical needs as well as guiding the division in serving and protecting the community.

Part of a patrol officer's responsibilities include conducting criminal investigations. This year saw the addition of new equipment to help officers with that duty. Each officer was issued a digital camera for use in documenting crime scenes and automobile collisions. Also, all of the patrol vehicles were equipped with a modern digital video recording system. This new system allows officers to easily record their activities as well as manage the large number of recordings created. The system records video onto a computer hard drive, thus eliminating the need for handling and storing video tape. The video can then be transferred to another media, such as a DVD, for use in court.

The officers in the patrol division are the designated first responders for the police department and are called upon to risk their personal safety for the sake of the others. Their professionalism and dedication to that mission is the foundation of their effort to serve and protect the community.

Annual Report 2008

Traffic Unit

The Traffic unit consists of three officers and a Sergeant. The main focus of the unit is to enforce traffic laws and investigative vehicle collisions.

In 2008, the Traffic Unit issued almost 1300 notices of infraction and made 119 misdemeanor and 10 felony arrests. Additionally, the Traffic Unit handled almost 700 case reports. The unit was called out over 20 times for serious injury and/or fatality collision investigations. They handled 4 fatality collisions and were also involved in numerous community events and regional enforcement activities. They handled almost 400 hit and run collision investigations, including 25 injury hit- and-run investigations. In addition, traffic officers were assigned to augment patrol operations for 4 months during the year.

Tukwila Police Explorers

The Tukwila Police Department has an active Police Explorer post, offering the youth of Tukwila and the surrounding area an opportunity to learn the many different facets of law enforcement. This program builds self-esteem as well as teamwork, cooperation and respect. The program is open to youth between 14 and 21 years of age.

Aside from meeting twice monthly, the Explorers also participate in many community events, such as Tukwila Days, the D.A.R.E. dash, crime prevention programs, domestic violence awareness events, and SeaFair. They are continually asked to participate at various fund-raisers and charity events.

The Explorer program also offers Explorer academies, camp-outs, and numerous challenges and competitions with other posts from the northwest, as well as other fun events. The post has acquired trophies and awards from various competitions along with attending the weeklong 2008 National Explorer Conference in Fort Collins, Colorado where Explorers competed with Explorer Posts from across the country, taking part in various law enforcement scenarios like traffic stops, domestic violence, arrest/search, and white collar crime.

Utilization of 2008 Training Hours

Investigations Division

The Investigations Division which comprises approximately 1/3 of the total commissioned staffing for the Tukwila Police Department is led by an Assistant Chief and a Commander. Within this division are found the Major Crimes Unit, the Tukwila Anti-Crime Team, and the Crime Prevention Resource Unit.

Major Crimes Unit (MCU)

The Major Crimes Unit is staffed with 9 detectives, 1 support specialist and our Domestic Violence Advocate. This unit is responsible for the investigation and follow-up of a broad range of criminal activities, which include Homicide, Assault, Domestic Violence, Missing Persons, Fraud and Forgery, Auto Theft and other felony crimes. 2008 was an exceptional year for the MCU, with a record setting seven homicides and fourteen call-outs. In addition to handling their regularly assigned investigations, the MCU was responsible for conducting nine background investigations of Tukwila Police Department applicants.

Tukwila Anti-Crime (TAC) Team

The TAC Team is typically staffed with 1 sergeant and 3 detectives with a fourth detective assigned to the Valley Narcotics Enforcement Team. This detective works closely in support of the TAC Team. Although the unit worked most of the year with staffing challenges, they owe their successes to team work both within the unit and within the department. Although this unit's primarily responsible for Vice and Narcotic crimes investigation, they are adaptable and competent to take on the many additional tasks they are presented. Of particular note in this area is the assistance the team provided to the Major Crimes Unit with the investigation of several of the homicides that occurred during the year. Utilizing the team's unique abilities and contacts was instrumental in identifying suspects and, in some cases, making arrests. The team worked on 109 drug-related cases during the year; crack cocaine is still the drug of choice in Tukwila, and our investigations led to the seizure of approximately 240 grams of the substance. The team also made 26 prostitution arrests during the year; this included a number of male customers, or "Johns," who attempted to solicit illicit acts from an undercover female officer. Another of the unit's undercover operations resulted in the employees of the Cowgirls Espresso stands coming into compliance with city ordinance regarding their style of dress. Assisting the King County Sheriff's Office in a long-term investigation into houses of prostitution disguising themselves as tanning salons, we ultimately achieved the shutting down of Malibu Tanning on Interurban Avenue.

Crime Prevention Resource Team (CPR-T)

The Crime Prevention Resource Team, supervised by Administrative Sergeant Suzi Sacha, provide an important service within the Tukwila community. Providing Crime Prevention Training, Crime Free Multi-Housing Training, the Citizen's Police Academy and assisting with Block Watches are just a few of their functions. The Neighborhood Resource Center, staffed by Officer Gerry Myklebust, serves as a central police point of contact on Tukwila International Blvd. From this location, he also manages our Safety In Overnight Lodging Program. Community-Oriented Policing Coordinator Chris Partman, operating out of the CPR-T office, located in the 6300 building suite #211, provides critical services in the area of Crime Free Multi-Housing, Apartment Managers Network in addition to other assignments. Other members of the CPR-T include our School Resource Officer Lisa Mills, the Accreditation Officer Mike Murphy and our Training Officer Ted Rutt.

School Resource Officer

Our School Resource Officer Lisa Mills is also assigned to the Crime Prevention Resource Team. She has worked with faculty, staff and students of both Foster High School and Showalter Middle School for over 10 years. In addition she has provided G.R.E.A.T. and D.A.R.E. Training along with Crime Free Futures Training. Officer Mills also gives Gang Training for Crime Prevention Training, Crime Free Multi Housing Training and the Citizen's Police Academy. She is also the President of the Washington School Safety Officers Association and the Regional Director and national instructor for the National Association of School Resource Officers.

Accreditation Officer

Officer Mike Murphy, also assigned to the Crime Prevention Resource Team is our Accreditation Officer. His duties include writing Policy and Procedures and assuring the department's compliance with WASPC accreditation. He also fills the position of the Public Information Officer and provides information to the news media.

Night Out Against Crime

Each year the Tukwila Police Department sponsors a citywide "Night Out" celebration to raise awareness of local anti-crime programs. In 2008, National Night Out Against Crime was held on Tuesday, August 5.

Through National Night Out, the Tukwila Police Department strengthens neighborhood spirit and partnerships with the community. We work with citizens to send a message to criminals that neighborhoods are organized and they are fighting back!

During "Night Out" on August 5, the Tukwila Police Department, members of the Fire Department, Mayor's Office, City Council, Municipal Court, Code Enforcement and other City departments visited each neighborhood that registered their event with us. This was a great way for neighbors to get to know one another and to meet representatives from the Police Department and other City agencies.

If you are interested in participating in National Night Out in the future, either by hosting a party or as part of a City of Tukwila team, contact Chris Partman (Community Policing) at 206-431-2197 or e-mail cpartman@ci.tukwila.wa.us.

Special Olympics of Washington

Once again the Tukwila Police Department was among the leaders in our State in fundraising for 2008. The Police Department raised over $39,000 through the Law Enforcement Torch Run campaign. The events this year included Tip-a-Cop at Claim Jumpers and Red Robin Restaurants, sitting on the roof of Krispy Kreme for three days, and the World's Largest Truck Convoy where 189 semi trucks traveled 75 miles on I-5 to raise awareness for special needs children. The Tukwila Police Department has been involved with Special Olympics for over 15 years, and would like to invite you to volunteer your time at one of our events.

Canine

On November 30, 2008 Officer Jamie Sturgill and his K9 partner Gino began their first night of patrol as a K9 team in Tukwila.

Officer Sturgill is a six-year veteran and was selected earlier in the year as the eighth K9 handler to work for the Police Department. Officer Devries and Stryker are the seventh Tukwila K9 team and work opposing days. K9 handlers are given much responsibility and must make the right decision each time they deploy their K9s to track a suspect or search an area. It also requires a great deal of sacrifice and commitment not only from the officers but also from their families as they add their K9 members to their households.

Canine Gino

Canine Stryker

Both K9s are German Shepards imported from Germany. The department purchased these dogs from a kennel owned by an Everett police officer and K9 trainer in Snohomish County. The K9 teams must successfully complete the Washington State Criminal Justice Training Commission approved 400 hour K9 course prior to going into service.

The teams work in partnership with other K9 teams within the Valley. Although our two teams patrol Tukwila, they are available to respond outside the city if needed. Likewise, our Tukwila police supervisors can call upon other K9 teams when our teams are not working.

Chaplains' Report

The chaplains of the Tukwila Police and Fire Department want to express our gratitude and thankfulness to all the personnel of these departments for allowing us to serve you for another year. This was Chaplain Lowell Welker's third year and Chaplain Al Patterson's fifth year of volunteer service.

Statistically, we responded to a total of seventy-two calls for service. Chaplain Welker had 19 responses, 7 in Tukwila and 12 in outside agency assists. Chaplain Patterson had 53 responses, 14 in Tukwila and 39 in outside agency assists. Part of the dramatic difference in the number of calls is that Chaplain Patterson assists two other Fire Districts.

The hardest part of this year was the death of our friend and Assistant Police Chief D. J. Baskin. Chaplain Welker had been his mother's pastor while he was in the Army. We were both available that day and just made ourselves accessible as needed. D. J.'s memorial service was a true tribute to the character and heart of a treasured friend and of our department. Thank you all.

The variety of calls this year was as diverse as our community, from the tragic drowning of a school student to the untimely death of a man two-weeks short of his 100th birthday celebration. We serve the people in Tukwila regardless of their race or religious preference. We were reminded of the violent side of our culture in the multiple shootings within our community and thankfully, no department personnel were injured.

Chaplain Welker attended the four-day International Conference of Police Chaplains National Training Meeting in Grand Rapids, Michigan. Chaplain Patterson attended the four-day Regional ICPC Training Conference in Cannon Beach, Oregon. Another aspect of our service to the community at large is both Chaplain Welker and Chaplain Patterson train twice a year as part of the SeaTac Airport Chaplain Response Team. Training is for the event that we pray will never happen.

Chaplain Welker and Chaplain Patterson want to thank all of those who have faithfully supported us through the payroll designated giving to the Charteris Foundation.

Respectfully submitted,

Chaplain Al

TUKWILA POLICE AT 100

Here are some interesting historical facts about the Tukwila Police Department:

- ★ Tukwila's first law enforcement officer was a Town Marshal. In 1909 his salary was $80 per year.
- ★ In 1910 a City ordinance allowed all livestock to roam the streets and alleys except between 6:00AM and 8:00PM. Any livestock found roaming during those hours were impounded by the Marshal or his deputy and held until penalties were paid. A subsequent ordinance allowed selling any unclaimed livestock at auction.
- ★ In February of 1916, Marshal Dave Stauffer requested the City Council to furnish him with a gun and handcuffs. The Council issued a $10.00 warrant to pay for these items.
- ★ In August of 1918, a motorcycle officer was appointed to enforce the speed limit of 12 mph on the new Pacific Highway. Fines collected totaled $508.50.
- ★ In September of that year the speeding fines collected totaled $215.00. The motorcycle officer reported that he had to sell his motorcycle because he expected to be drafted into the military due to World War I. The Council decided to get a new officer and a motorcycle "with a speedometer."
- ★ In December of that same year May Stevens reported that the motorcycle officer's enforcement of the Reckless Driving Ordinance had resulted in the collection of $1,000.00. The money went to the improvement of streets and sidewalks.
