Mayor's Message

Laying the foundation for our City's future

Local government has many roles. We provide direct services that residents and visitors can see and interact with every day, like recreational programming, police in our neighborhoods and roadways being refurbished. There's a lot of other work that goes on behind the scenes, such as providing graphic design for the Hazelnut, processing utility bills, and preparing weekly meeting packets for the City Council.

Then there are the projects and programs that are the in-between – the important things we do as a City to plan for our future. I call these our foundational projects, with the biennial budget process being at the top of the list. There are many more foundational projects currently underway that, over the coming years, will help shape our community. I encourage you to learn more about our work and engage with these important projects. These are just a few.

Comprehensive Plan and Middle Housing –

Every ten years cities are required to develop a Comprehensive Plan. This policy document describes how the City will manage its growth, and provide necessary services and facilities over a 20-year planning period. It literally lays out how we want to grow as our population increases, what types of housing we want to encourage, how we will address climate change, community resilience and more. This Comprehensive Plan will also focus on how we can encourage the development of affordable housing that addresses the needs of all Tukwila's families. Over the next 18 months, City staff will conduct a robust community engagement process to get your input on the plan's priorities. Join us in this effort by visiting TukwilaWA.gov/CompPlanUpdate.

Tukwila Police Department Strategic Plan –

The Strategic Plan Committee consists of employees from all divisions within the Tukwila Police Department plus two Tukwila community members. So far this year, Chief Eric Drever has hosted three Committee meetings. The Department recently employed a consultant to facilitate the meetings and help develop a quality product. Their mission is to develop goals that are measurable and achievable over the next five years. The Department will also seek to revamp its vision, mission, and core values. The committee's target is having a completed 2024–2028 Strategic Plan by the end of 2023. Critical to this process is community engagement. Our success in this plan requires your input and feedback via social media, town hall, one on one, surveys, etc. Tukwila community members are encouraged to connect with the Department on this important effort. For updates, visit TukwilaPolice.com and Facebook.com/TukwilaPD.

Allentown Truck Reroute Project –

You may be aware that the City is developing an Environmental Impact Statement (EIS). It evaluates alternatives for rerouting existing BNSF Railway truck traffic in Allentown. As of this writing, the City just completed Phase 2 of its scoping efforts. This is where information is received from the Tukwila community and other stakeholders about potential route alternatives in and out of the BNSF Railway intermodal yard. The project has moved to the drafting phase, where input received in Phase 2 is used to determine the final set of alternatives for analysis in the Draft EIS. This part of the effort takes approximately nine months. When complete, the Draft EIS will be available for review and comment by the community and other stakeholders before the EIS is finalized. For more information, visit TukwilaWA.gov/AllentownTruckReroute.

These are just some of critical programs currently under way that will have lasting impacts on our city. I encourage you to get involved in the Tukwila community, partner with us in some capacity, and help continue to improve our great city.

June is Pet Preparedness Month... Are you “petpared”?

Surveys show that most households in the United States have at least one pet. Your pet is a critical member of your family and needs to be included in your emergency plan. Follow these simple steps to become “petpared” for anything!

Build a Kit

Your pet needs a basic kit with their own supplies that you can grab and go at a moment's notice. Here are some items you may want to include in your pet emergency kit:

-  FOOD – Keep enough food for several days in a sealed container.
-  WATER – Add a few bottles of water to your pet's kit.
-  MEDICINE – Keep an extra supply of your pet's medication in a waterproof container.
-  COLLAR, LEASH, HARNESS, ID TAG – Add a backup leash, collar, ID tag and harness to your kit.
-  PET DOCUMENTATION – Keep a list of medications, pet registration, chip information, etc., in your kit.
-  GROOMING SUPPLIES – Keep a small bottle of pet shampoo and other grooming items in case your pet needs cleaning up.
-  SANITATION – Include newspaper, paper towels, pet litter, for your pet's sanitation needs.
-  PHOTOS – If you and your pet become separated, a photo of you and your will help prove ownership and allow others to assist you in identifying your pet.
-  FAMILIAR ITEMS – Include favorite toys, treats, bedding, and other items that will help reduce stress for your pet.

Make a Plan

Depending on the emergency or disaster, time of day, day of the week, and several other factors, you may or may not be home with your pet. A plan for all situations will help you and your pet stay together or be reunited quickly. Arrange to:

-  HAVE AN EVACUATION PLAN for your pet. Many shelters and hotels don't allow pets. Know where you can take your pet before a disaster. Use resources like BringFido.com to make your plan.
-  CREATE A BUDDY SYSTEM. Talk with neighbors, friends and family to make sure someone can retrieve your pet if you are not home.
-  MICROCHIP YOUR PET. Keep your contact information on the chip up to date. Include an emergency contact outside of your immediate area. Microchips will be one of the first things used to identify and reunite pets with their owners.

Be Informed

Staying informed is important for you, your family, and your furry or feathered friends. Ways to stay informed:

-  PAY ATTENTION to emergency alerts and warnings. Follow the warning instructions to keep you and your pet safe.
-  ALWAYS BRING PETS INDOORS at the first sign or warning of a storm or inclement weather.

For more information or questions about pet preparedness, contact Tukwila Emergency Management at EmergencyPrep@TukwilaWA.gov.

Tukwila Pool feasibility study – your input is invited

To identify community needs and analyze sustainability, the Tukwila Pool Metropolitan Park District (TPMPD) will conduct a feasibility study. Expected to be completed later this year, the study will be funded by a $100,000 Parks Aquatic Facilities Program Grant awarded to the TPMPD from King County.

The Tukwila Pool is a year-round indoor facility with a twenty-five-yard, six lane lap pool and a shallow pool that supports various aquatic activities. The focus of the feasibility study is to ensure that the Tukwila Pool is able to meet the community's needs now and in the future. The feasibility study includes needs and operational cost analysis and funding strategy.

The Tukwila Pool participants consistently express needs and interests for additional aquatic programming; the demand for aquatic spaces is an ongoing challenge throughout the region.

Public input is important to the study. The TPMPD invites all interested Tukwila residents to participate in the conversation, along with input from others who participate in Tukwila Pool programs, including residents of SeaTac, Burien, Renton and Seattle.

A calendar of events related to the feasibility study will be published on the Tukwila Pool website TukwilaPool.org. For more information, contact District Administrator Kristine Selleck at 206-556-3055, or email district@TukwilaPool.org.

Tukwila Planning Commission seeks resident member volunteer

The City of Tukwila has an opening for a residential community member to serve on the Planning Commission/ Board of Architectural Review. The position will fill the remainder of a four-year term ending December 31, 2026.

What it does

Tukwila's Planning Commission also sits as the City's Board of Architectural Review.

The role of the Planning Commission is to promote and coordinate comprehensive long-range planning, growth management, and environmental protection. They do this by reviewing and revising City-wide rules, development standards and policies, and making recommendations on them to the City Council. Examples of this would be recommended changes to the Zoning Code, Comprehensive Plan and Sign Code.

As the Board of Architectural Review, this group reviews the architectural and site design of applicable private development projects such as stores, apartments and subdivisions for consistency with adopted City standards and guidelines. The Board's decisions are final unless appealed.

What's required

Commission members are expected to prepare for and attend public meetings with minimal absences. Generally, the Planning Commission meets on the fourth Thursday of each month (2nd Thursday in November and December) at 6:30PM, but during times of heavy workloads one or two additional evening meetings may be scheduled per month.

All meetings are hybrid meetings, held in-person and virtually, in the City Council Chambers. The meetings are recorded. A record of Planning Commission agendas and board activities can be found on the City website in the Digital Records Center.

All applicants for this position must live in the City of Tukwila.

If you're interested

Please complete a City of Tukwila Boards, Commissions and Committees Application, and return it to the Mayor's Office by June 25, 2023. The link to the application is available on the City of Tukwila website at TukwilaWA.gov/boards.

If you have any questions about the application process, please call the Mayor's Office at 206-433-1850 or email BoardsComms@TukwilaWA.gov.

Council Corner

Tukwila's Council stays busy working with a variety of issues

Your City Council has been hard at work these past couple of months, and I want to take an opportunity to provide you with some highlights of what we've been up to!

City Council Retreat: Improving the way we work together

Every year the City Council gets together for a retreat and this year we focused on improving the way we work together. This is important because we must find common ground for decision making. It is equally important that Council members have good working relationships with the mayor, City administration and City staff. As a result of the retreat, we have developed draft agreements to help foster collaborative, equitable and respectful work.

Public Works Shops Phase 2: Supporting the foundation of our City

The City Council has been working with City Administration to continue the progress on a new Public Works facility. Tukwila's Public Works Department is responsible for the most critical infrastructure in our city – roads, water systems, sewer systems, environmental protections, and all things related to our City's infrastructure. Currently, our public works shops are deteriorating, and we cannot risk losing this critical resource. The Council is considering design and construction financing at this time.

South King County Housing and Homelessness Partnership (SKHHP): Regional collaboration on affordable housing

Tukwila is a member of SKHHP, which focuses on housing solutions in South King County. Other members are the cities of Renton, Federal Way, Kent, Auburn, Des Moines, Maple Valley and Covington. The City Council recently voted to increase Tukwila's contribution to SKHHP's Capital Housing Fund so that more projects across the region can get the funding they need to begin.

by Cynthia Delostrinos-Johnson,
2023 Council President

Improving Public Safety: Automated license plate readers

The Council recently approved a contract for automated license plate readers that serve as a tool to help the Tukwila Police Department combat car thefts and other crime within the city.

Tukwila's City of Opportunity Scholarships awarded

Every year, the City provides $10,000 in scholarship awards to graduating seniors living in Tukwila. This year four scholarships were awarded to seniors from Foster High School.

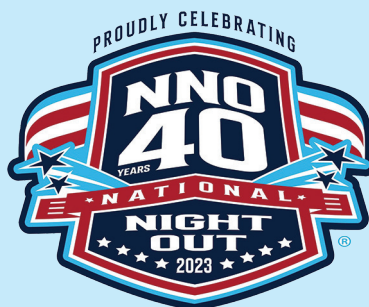

Providing a Public Health Response to Safety: Mental health co-responders

The Council approved contracts to add another Mental Health Provider to the Tukwila Police Department. The Mental Health Providers are deployed as co-responders assisting police officers on calls that involve individuals suffering from mental illness. The co-responders also provide training for officers to improve the Department's mental health response.

We want to hear from you! Are the decisions we are making reflecting the values and vision you see in Tukwila? Please let us know! Email us at CityCouncil@TukwilaWA.gov, or stop by our public meetings on Monday evenings at 7:00PM at City Hall, located at 6200 Southcenter Boulevard.

You can find more information about our work and our meetings at TukwilaWA.gov.
