Implementation of Tukwila’s modified Public Safety Plan continues to move forward. The Plan includes construction of two new fire stations, a Justice Center and Public Works facility.

Fire Station #51
Progress is being made on all of the Plan’s projects, and Fire Station 51 – located in Tukwila’s urban center - leads the pack. The design of the replacement Fire Station 51 is currently in the “construction documents” phase, meaning that the building design phase is more than 60% complete. Located at the intersection of Southcenter Parkway and South 180th, the City expects to break ground on the project in early 2019 and move into the facility in early 2020.

Tukwila Justice Center
Progress also continues on the Justice Center, a combined Police/Municipal Court/Emergency Operations facility to be located on Tukwila International Boulevard. The City is pleased to have come to agreement with all of the businesses located on the site. Business owners were provided financial assistance, help identifying other properties, permit credits and other technical assistance. The City hopes these businesses will relocate in Tukwila where they can remain valued and integral members of this community. Another significant development on this project was the recent demolition of a long-vacant and derelict building on the Justice Center site. Shown below is a conceptual rendering of the facility, which provides the general idea of the building’s form, mass and character.

Public Works Facility
Development of the combined Public Works facility is making headway. The City recently went through a public process, selecting an architect to provide master planning services. Additionally, Tukwila continues working with the property owners to identify mutually acceptable terms for property acquisition by the City.
Cities like Tukwila step up their game in responding to issues

SeeClickFix is a web and mobile application used for reporting issues that need attention to local governments, including Tukwila. On September 18 and 19, the City of Tukwila hosted the SeeClickFix Summer Workshop at the Tukwila Community Center. Attendees came from as close as SeaTac, and as far away as Topeka, Kansas. Just this month, the cities of Sammamish, Washington and Sandpoint, Idaho both celebrated going live with SeeClickFix.

In my welcome to SeeClickFix staff and workshop attendees, I spoke about the time before we launched our app – Tukwila Works – on the SeeClickFix platform. Residents had complained that issues went into the City but didn’t come back out again, thus leaving the users unsure if their issue was being resolved. Now we have a feedback loop that keeps residents in-the-know and engaged. In 2016, the average number of days to acknowledge an issue was 3.29. We had set a 3-day goal for acknowledgement; now in 2018, it averages 1.13 days. Similarly, the average number of days to close an issue in 2016 was 40.08, and now it is 9.67 days. Since the launch of Tukwila Works in mid-2016, 2,659 issues have been reported, mostly via smart phone.

At this workshop, City of Tukwila staff from Police, Public Works, Code Enforcement, and Community Services and Engagement participated on a panel discussing how we handle difficult issues such as homeless encampments. Other workshop topics included new platform features, increasing community adoption of SeeClickFix, best practices learned from other communities, and more.

See something that needs fixing? Tukwila’s residents, businesses and guests can report issues via the Apple or Android apps, as well as on the City’s website, TukwilaWA.gov/TukwilaWorks. The City looks forward to hearing from you!

October is Breast Cancer Awareness Month, and the Tukwila Fire Department crews had the option to wear their pink TFD T-shirts to support this important cause. Within two hours of the call going out to the Department from the Tukwila Fire Chief Jay Wittwer, he received this photo. TFD crews were seen around town, at training events and responding to calls while wearing their Breast Cancer Awareness T-shirts.

Tukwila’s Police and Fire Departments were directed to identify 1.5% in budget reductions, and the remaining departments produced 3% reductions in their budgets. Also, implementation of Priority-Based Budgeting has begun, which enables the City to examine programs and provide transparency to the process. Along with these reductions, the Administration is currently exploring new revenue options in order to maintain a high level of services for the City’s residents, businesses and guests.

As with other City business, all budget deliberations will occur in public meetings. The Council meets every Monday (except for fifth Mondays) at 7:00PM in Council Chambers at City Hall. The Council Finance Committee meets on the first and third Tuesdays each month at 5:30 in the Hazelnut Conference Room at City Hall (next to the east entrance). At least one Council workshop on the budget is expected, if not more. All meetings are posted on the City’s online calendar at TukwilaWA.gov/events.

Examining the City of Tukwila’s 2019/2020 biennial budget process

On Monday, October 1, 2018 Mayor Ekberg delivered his proposed budget to the City Council. The Council is currently reviewing and deliberating on the Mayor’s proposal and will eventually adopt a final budget by the end of the year. The City is again committed to developing a fiscally-sound, balanced budget for 2019 and 2020.

As is true of many jurisdictions, Tukwila is projected to experience a misalignment of revenues and expenditures in the coming biennium. Sales tax – which makes up 1/3 of the City’s revenue – has flattened, and revenue growth is not keeping pace with the cost of ongoing expenditures. Additionally, the State funding of sales tax mitigation, established to compensate cities like Tukwila that were hard-hit by the change to destination-based sales tax, will end by 2020.

Tukwila’s Police and Fire Departments were directed to identify 1.5% in budget reductions, and the remaining departments produced 3% reductions in their budgets. Also, implementation of Priority-Based Budgeting has begun, which enables the City to examine programs and provide transparency to the process. Along with these reductions, the Administration is currently exploring new revenue options in order to maintain a high level of services for the City’s residents, businesses and guests.

Tukwila’s response to homelessness

Homelessness and affordable housing are major issues in our region that continue to grow in size and complexity. Some estimates indicate that more than 1,000 people move to the Puget Sound region each week. Skyrocketing housing prices caused by the competition for scarce housing resources propels many people southward seeking more affordable housing. Because of this trend, we are seeing Tukwila housing prices rise and housing turnover occur more frequently.

Tukwila, like its neighbors throughout the region, has also seen a corresponding rise in homelessness. Many homeless people are working, but simply cannot afford housing. Others are often suffering from myriad serious issues such as job loss, low wages, negative credit, domestic violence victimization, mental illness and/or substance abuse issues. Homelessness is a complex social issue, with mental health and addiction only a part of the problem.

The City has been responding to the issues of homelessness and affordable housing for many years in a variety of ways. The Human Services Division provides $180,000 per year to fund regional prevention, intervention, outreach and housing programs that serve Tukwila residents. These services include employment programs, shelters and transitional housing (including three houses owned by the City), legal assistance, mental health and substance abuse services, medical and dental care, and one-time financial assistance for eviction prevention.

Tukwila has partnered with Tent City 3, Best Starts for Kids, Riverton Park United Methodist Church, King County Minor Home Repair Program, Tukwila School District staff, Tukwila Community Center, Weekend SnackPack Program and Mary’s Place, to help Tukwila residents stay here and thrive here. Tukwila’s Police Department has a robust Community Police Team (CPT) that actively monitors and reaches out to people experiencing homelessness in our community. Members of the CPT have started a Homeless Task Force that includes Police, Human Services, Fire and other sub-regional/regional community providers to address the issue.

The City continually strives to live up to its vision – The City of Opportunity, the Community of Choice – for all its residents. Tukwila’s departments will continue to partner with other agencies in addressing affordable housing and homelessness.
One sunny weekend in mid-September, the Southcenter District in the Tukwila Urban Center was the place to be! On Saturday, September 15, the City hosted the Seattle Sounders FC Rave Green Run 5K race. Around 800 runners enjoyed the race on our city’s beautiful trails, circling the Starfire Sports campus and finishing up at Southcenter for the Finish Line Festival. This was also a charitable endeavor, with proceeds benefiting the RAVE Foundation, which serves to inspire youth and strengthen communities by removing barriers to participation in soccer. They do great work!

On both Saturday and Sunday – same weekend – the new Hotel Interurban served as host location for the 2018 RenCon. If you were in the area that weekend, you probably noticed the attendees walking around in amazing hand-crafted costumes. RenCon is a growing regional convention focusing on comic books, super heroes, science, costumes, pop culture and more. We were thrilled to have this event in Tukwila for the first time ever, drawing around 3,500 attendees. Vendors were located on multiple floors and the 28 panels made good use of the hotel’s many conference spaces. The weekend-long celebration of all things nerdy ended with an awards ceremony at the mall’s AMC theatre and a VIP party at Tukwila’s own Virtual Sports.

I am also proud to say that the City helped fund both events through its lodging tax fund, which comes from a 1% charge on most overnight stays in Tukwila. We use these funds to help promote and build a strong day- and night-visitor economy as we aim to be a premiere shopping, dining and entertainment destination. The Rave Green Run and RenCon are both examples of the kind of exciting and fresh events we would like to see happen in Tukwila. Other events funded by lodging tax this year include the ongoing Southcenter District 50th Anniversary celebration, the Queen Pin Classic drag bowling event at Acme Bowl, and the Museum of Flight’s upcoming Veterans Day ceremony.

Events like these offer an opportunity to energize neighborhoods and show off all that we have to offer in the City of Tukwila. The City considers applications from nonprofits and public agencies for lodging tax on a rolling basis and we are looking for 2019 events! Applications go to the City, then are reviewed and approved by both the Lodging Tax Advisory Committee and the City Council. For more information about the lodging tax program, contact the Lodging Tax Advisory Committee Chair, Councilmember Kathy Hougardy, at 206-571-0007, or the City’s Business Relationship Manager Brandon Miles at 206-431-3684.

Surface Water billing changes

Beginning in 2019, City of Tukwila storm water bills will be included on property tax statements mailed by King County. The City has contracted with King County for provision of the storm water billing and collection services to create a more streamlined process. This move will also free up Tukwila staff time to concentrate efforts on other critical tasks and projects.

The City joins seventeen other King County entities in using these billing services, including the cities of Bothell, Burien, Covington, Federal Way, Kirkland, Maple Valley, SeaTac and Woodinville. Some specialized properties – such as condominium complexes and State-owned highways – will continue to be billed by the City.

The City will also adopt King County’s definitions for “senior” and “low-income,” which has the potential to positively impact more households in Tukwila. The household low-income threshold for King County is currently $40,000 as opposed to the City’s $32,000. The defined senior age for King County is 61, while the City’s is 62.

Should you have any questions about this change, please contact Tukwila Finance Director Peggy McCarthy at 206-433-1838 or Peggy.McCarthy@TukwilaWA.gov.

2018 high school intern program again benefits both students and City

In the second year of its program, the City of Tukwila hosted 10 interns this year as a way to expose young people to government service and potential careers. It’s also a great way for departments to have extra hands during the summer and for students to get real-world work experience. This year’s cohort brought many skills and abilities to the City. In fact, between the ten of them, they speak nine languages other than English.

Applications for the 2019 summer internship program will open in March. The 2019 summer internship program dates are tentatively scheduled for July 8 through August 30, 2019.

Department of Community Development – Leary Labanlic graduated from Foster High School in June, where he was on the Honor Roll each year, and received the Scholar Athlete Award each year as well. He is currently attending the UW School of Architecture. Leary helped the Department update addresses, and worked on his own project to bring attention to and revitalize Tukwila Pond Park.

Finance – Kristina Te worked in the Finance Department this spring. She graduated in June with her high school diploma and her Associates Degree in Business from Highline College, and is currently at University of Washington. Kristina helped as a back-up for the front counter and did other projects, including helping provide documents for the State financial audit.

Fire Department – Travis Boyd graduated from Foster High School in June. While in high school, he completed the Fire and Emergency Services Program at the Puget Sound Skills Center in Burien, looking toward a career in the fire service (hopefully in Tukwila). Travis helped the Fire Department with their conversion to Telestaff, an online scheduling system. He attended training, meetings, and went on many fire and aid calls in the community.

Human Resources – Donna Te is a sophomore at Foster High School, involved with the Asian Student Association, Future Business Leaders of America, UW’s Making Connections Program and UW’s Girls Who Code. She is an Honor Roll student and a Scholar Athlete. Donna learned about HR safety policies and procedures, how work injury claims are filed, and helped with records management in the HR Department.

Mayor’s Office – Najma Hashi is a senior who’s attending Tukwila’s Raisbeck Aviation High School. Rizza Sanoy is a sophomore at Foster High School, where she has played varsity tennis, as well as basketball and cross country. During their internships, Najma and Rizza worked with City Administration, the City Clerks Office, Economic Development, City Council staff, and Community Services and Engagement within the Mayor’s Office. They created posters, observed court proceedings, assisted with Council agenda packets and records management, updated Human Services resource listings, and much more.

Parks and Recreation – Paulina Viskova began her high school career at Raisbeck Aviation High School, and has begun Running Start with Green River. Paulina shadowed all roles in Parks & Rec, which included budget discussions; senior, teen and kids programs, park and golf course maintenance, and helping with events like the See You in The Park Events and Touch-a-Truck.

Police Department – Jamieson Aldrich attends Foster High School, where he is on the track team, and tutors students at Showalter Middle School. Jamieson worked with the Community Policing Team and went on many ride-alongs. After analyzing data on jaywalking from the TIB Light Rail Station across 154th, he recommended installing a taller fence to reduce instances of people crossing the street illegally.

Public Works – Nigel Veach graduated from Garfield High School in June, was a National Merit Scholar, and will major in Mechanical Engineering at Duke. Nigel helped manage a road construction project this summer, and also helped map pedestrian trip hazards and street lights that need to be upgraded to LED.

Technology and Innovation Services – Ryan Mathew is an honor roll student at Foster High School, and a scholar athlete participating in cross country, basketball, and track. This summer, Ryan helped to process and respond to IT Helpdesk Tickets, and created many electronic forms to replace old paper-based processes. Ryan is staying on as an intern through the school year.

Taking care of Tukwila’s tree canopy

After careful consideration involving its business and residential communities, Tukwila has adopted new tree protections for both single-family neighborhoods and commercial areas. The contributions that trees make to the environment and our quality of life are often overlooked.

Protecting the existing tree canopy – and even increasing it – can provide benefits in many ways. For instance, trees help to combat climate change by removing carbon dioxide from the air, and they act as natural air filters. Next time you take a breath of that fresh Pacific Northwest air, thank a tree! Trees can also improve the City’s water quality by intercepting rainfall before it hits the ground, decreasing the storm water runoff. This helps to maintain a healthy environment for our aquatic wildlife by lessening the amount of pollutants entering our streams and rivers. It also saves the City and its residents money by reducing the need for development and maintenance of storm water treatment facilities.

On top of the numerous environmental benefits, trees provide direct and instantaneous benefits to people. Maintaining healthy trees can increase property values and reduce home heating/cooling costs, and are proven to help reduce stress. Spending just five minutes among trees can reduce both blood pressure and muscle tension.

Think twice and give us a call to find out more about permitting requirements before cutting down a tree! If you have any questions, please contact Meredith Sampson in the Department of Community Development at 206-431-3661 or email Meredith.Sampson@TukwilaWA.gov.

Amnesty period offered for registering your mother-in-law apartment (accessory dwelling unit)

Do you have an existing mother-in-law apartment or backyard cottage, also called an Accessory Dwelling Unit (ADU)? Tukwila has changed its regulations, and registration with the City is now required.

If your ADU was built without permits or before you owned the property, there is a one-year amnesty period through June 2019 to get a courtesy inspection from the Building Department and make any safety repairs needed by code. During that time, owners can come forward to register their ADUs under more flexible zoning rules, including:

- Exceeding the permitted height for a detached ADU
- Exceeding the permitted area for an attached or detached ADU, up to 1,200 square feet
- Not providing a second parking space for a two-bedroom ADU
- Roof pitch of less than 5:12
- Location of the ADU on the lot

Owner occupancy, providing at least 1 parking space per ADU, and meeting the minimum lot size for a detached ADU would not be waived.

For more information regarding Accessory Dwelling Units, please contact Lindsay Brown by calling 206-433-7166, or email Lindsay.Brown@TukwilaWA.gov, or go online to TukwilaWA.gov/wp-content/uploads/DCD-Planning-Accessory-Dwelling-Units.pdf.

Welcome to autumn. Let’s talk leaves…

… on the road

- Wet, slippery leaves make driving hazardous. Slow down when driving on leaves, especially around turns. Leave plenty of emergency stopping room.

- If the temperature drops below freezing, the wet leaves will freeze, making driving even more dangerous.

- Leaves littering the road can obscure painted lane markings, bumps or potholes, and other road hazards.

- Never drive through a raked leaf pile – it’s an inviting place for a child (or pet) to burrow, jump or hide.

… around your car

- Keep your windshield clear to avoid wet leaves getting stuck under the wiper blades.

- Don’t park over a pile of dry leaves to avoid a possible fire hazard from the exhaust system or catalytic converter.

… at your home

- Clean your gutters frequently. Leaf-clogged gutters (and downspouts) can create major damage by sending water into your home or breaking loose due to water weight.

- To avoid creating a falling hazard for pedestrians, keep your driveway and walkways clear of fallen leaves.

- If you use a leaf blower, dress properly in clothing that covers your skin to prevent injury. Wear appropriate eye protection, gloves and sturdy shoes as well.

- Think safety as you perform home chores. Use a sturdy, steady ladder for climbing. Don’t overexert when raking or lifting.
