Ideas for summer fun in Tukwila (part 1)

One of the things I love about living in Tukwila is that we have the advantages of living in a large metropolitan area, and yet Tukwila still retains the small town feel. In fact, you don't even need to leave town for summer activities. Our city does a great job of providing things to do and places to go with friends and neighbors. Here are some of the upcoming events that you can enjoy this summer; I'll give you even more suggestions next month.

Saturday radio communications event

On Saturday, June 22 the Tukwila Emergency Communications Team (TECTeam) invites you to join them for their annual Field Day exercise, held from 12:00-5:00PM, at Tukwila Fire Station 51, at 444 Andover Park East. This exercise is part of the national annual Field Day event, organized by the American Radio Relay League, the national association for amateur radio.

The purposes of Field Day are multifold. This drill is an opportunity to: simulate setting up and operating communications equipment in less-than-ideal emergency circumstances; educate the public on the value of communications during an emergency; get unlicensed citizens "on the air" making radio contacts across the state or country; and it's a competition to make as many radio contacts as possible during the event, while promoting interest in the hobby and having fun!

Visitors can try their hand at operating a High Frequency radio (no license necessary as they'll be accompanied by a licensed operator), learn about the communications facets of the City's Emergency Preparedness plan, learn about the volunteer opportunities with the TECTeam, and get any questions answered relating to amateur radio or emergency communications.

The Tukwila Emergency Communications Team was formed 18 months ago, recruiting volunteers who live or work in Tukwila to learn about amateur radio communications (also known as "ham radio"), emergency preparedness, formal incident command structure, and other skills needed in an emergency. The Team is providing its time and skills to the City of Tukwila Office of Emergency Management for deployment in the event of an emergency requiring unconventional communications. Experience has shown that traditional communications - cell phone, landline phone, commercial radio, Internet - can be impacted early on in an emergency. Amateur radio communications get through when these other systems which rely heavily on infrastructure fail.

For more information about the TECTeam or to learn more about amateur radio, its relevance in the 21st century and its use in Emergency Preparedness, visit the TECTeam website at www.TukwilaRadioClub.org.

Need someplace for your kids to go during the summer while you are at work, or do you want to get them off the couch and away from their video games? Send them to Tukwila Parks and Rec SUMMER CAMPS. Their days will be full of activities that include field trips, games, arts and crafts, swimming and more. There are now even specialty camps including Critter Camp (animals), Fashion, Cooking and Theater, and of course many different sports. Extended camp hours are available for working parents. Also, ask about the revamped financial assistance program to make camp affordable for your family budget.

Mayor's Message

The Certificate of Achievement for Excellence in Financial Reporting has been awarded to Tukwila for its 2011 Comprehensive Annual Financial Report (CAFR). This attainment represents a significant accomplishment by a government and its management, the highest level of recognition in the area of governmental accounting and financial reporting.

These awards are issued by the Government Finance Officers Association of the United States and Canada (GFOA), a non-profit professional association that promotes the professional management of governments with policies and practices that enhance sound financial management of public resources. The CAFR was evaluated by an impartial panel to meet the high standards of the program, including the demonstration of a constructive "spirit of full disclosure", to clearly communicate its financial story and motivate potential users and user groups to read the CAFR.

At the May 28 City Council Meeting this Certificate was presented to Finance Director Peggy McCarthy, along with an Award of Financial Reporting Achievement for an individual, department or agency designated by the government as primarily responsible for preparing the award-winning CAFR. The City is proud to receive recognition for our high standards in financial reporting.

Tukwila students learn about connection between stormwater and healthy frogs

Frogs and stormwater quality were the emphasis for this year's public education and outreach at Tukwila Elementary School. As part of its Surface Water Management Program, Tukwila's Public Works Department provided a storm water presentation to Mrs. Fisher's third grade class on May 16, 2013. The surface water presentation was in support of the students currently learning about recycling and other aquatic life - certain frogs make their home. A variety of aquatic life relies on every person making sure that nothing but rain goes down the storm drain. The third graders signed pledge cards to do their part to keep pollution out of the City's storm drainage system and thus keeping the water quality we depend on at a very high level... even for the FROGS!

Information about summer water bills and consumption

In 1999 the City of Tukwila - along with the cities of Bellevue, Issaquah, Kirkland, Redmond and the Sammamish Plateau - and Skyway Water and Sewer Districts joined together to form a corporation called the Cascade Water Alliance (CWA). The mission of this alliance is "to provide water supply and meet current and future needs of our members in a cost-effective and environmentally responsible manner." It provides a safe, clean and reliable water supply to almost 400,000 residents and more than 22,000 businesses.

An important goal of the CWA is water conservation. As summer approaches with its traditional water usage increases, here are some tips for saving water:

- 1 Run dish and clothes washers with full loads only.
- 2 Wash your car at a commercial car wash.
- 3 Keep irrigation systems maintained and leak-free.
- 4 Set your sprinklers to water only the area needed (overspray uses extra gallons of water).
- 5 Use a broom to sweep sidewalks and driveways rather than a hose.
- 6 Fix leaky faucets; small drips add up to many gallons of water lost.
- 7 Maintain a cover on hot tubs and swimming pools when not in use to cut down on evaporation.

- ◆ Cars being washed more often than at other times of the year
- ◆ Watering a summer garden or landscaping in addition to normal outdoor watering
- ◆ Recently filled a swimming pool
- ◆ Additional people in the home, including guests
- ◆ Irrigation system leaks
- ◆ Leaking toilets

Leaking toilets can add up to the needless loss of many gallons of water which in turn increases your water bill. To check for a leak, do the following:

- ▶ Lift the lid on the toilet tank and place a few drops of food coloring in the tank.
- ▶ Wait 15 minutes. DO NOT FLUSH TOILET.
- ▶ If color seeps into the toilet bowl, it is likely that the toilet flapper is worn out and needs to be replaced.
- ▶ Remove flapper from toilet tank and place it in a plastic bag. Take bag to the hardware store where their staff can assist you with purchasing a new one, if help is needed.

If your consumption still seems high beyond the above possibilities, a meter read is advisable. While NO WATER IS BEING USED, check whether or not the meter is turning; a moving meter can mean a possible leak. However, with a really slow leak the turning may not be noticeable initially, so read the meter, wait several minutes and then read it again. A different read indicates a leak.

Senior or permanently disabled citizens meeting certain criteria qualify for a reduced water rate in Tukwila. As always, our City staff would be happy to answer any questions you may have about your water service or billing. Call us at 206-433-1835.
